

L'Institut Universitaire de Formation des Maîtres de l'Académie de Créteil

The IUFM (Institut Universitaire de la Formation des Maîtres) of the Académie de Créteil (regional education authority) is a state-run university institution focusing on preparing students to teach in primary schools (concours de recrutement des professeurs des écoles) as well as in secondary schools (Key stages 3 and 4), Sixth Form, (CAPES, CAPET) and vocational schools.

In the second year of training, trainees for all types of school complete their teaching practice.

Standing partners of the IUFM, working in close co-operation, are the universities and all types of school in the Académie de Créteil catchment area.

The Académie de Créteil comprises three "départements" in the surrounding area approx 80 km north, east and south of Paris. It is the second largest Académie in France due to the large number of schools and pupils.

It is the IUFM Centre du second degree, which trains yearly approx 800 secondary teachers, that is particularly involved in this project.
